

NEW YORK LAWYER VANISHES ON DAY SET FOR WEDDING

Harold Binney Had Bought
Trousseau for San Francisco
Girl Met on Train.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—After buying her a trousseau and making all arrangements for his wedding last night to Miss Elizabeth Winchell, a young Oakland girl, whom he met on the train on his way here last week, Harold Binney, a New York lawyer, disappeared. He is still missing to-day and his friends are much worried.

Mr. Binney, who is head of the law firm of Binney & Mastick of No. 1 Rector street, New York, and formerly a member of the firm of Dickerson, Brown, Raegener & Binney, came here on Friday to look after legal work for Charles Butler & Co., a mining concern. No one has the least notion of what has become of him. Miss Winchell is in great distress, but is aiding in the search.

His association with Miss Winchell led to a scene at the Palace Hotel, where Binney was staying. Binney met the girl on the Overland Express and proposed marriage after three days' acquaintance. Saturday he spent several hours with her buying the trousseau.

The goods were delivered to Binney's rooms at the Palace Hotel. When the manager of the hotel learned that Miss Winchell was in the lawyer's rooms she was ordered out and told to wait in the foyer. Both she and Binney warmly protested.

Friends here say Binney is addicted to the coffee habit, that he drinks as much as twenty cups of strong coffee a day and is sometimes rendered irresponsible thereby. To this habit they ascribe his sudden infatuation for Miss Winchell and also his disappearance.

Miss Winchell is a victim, friends say, of "Mental Lapses."

Harold Binney, who is tall, handsome and wealthy, went West ten days ago and was expected back soon. He is well known in this city, in Philadelphia and in Washington. He is a member of the one of the Revolution, New York Yacht Club, the Players, Engineers and Chemists' Clubs, the Garden City Golf Club and the Metropolitan Club of Washington. He is part owner of the Hotel Seville at Madison avenue and Twenty-ninth street, and lives with his daughter at No. 137 West Thirtieth street. He is also a sculptor and has a studio at No. 114 West Thirty-seventh street.

Miss Binney said to-day that she had understood her father's trip to California was to be a brief one. Binney and his wife were divorced last year.

Associates here say that while well Mr. Binney is an unusually brilliant man, he has suffered mental lapses since a severe attack of pneumonia. Following hardships endured when his yacht, the Mist, ran ashore at Atlantic City in January, 1910.

In order to land Mrs. W. L. Darrell, wife of his mate, who had been taken ill, Binney ran the Mist too near to the breakers and she went aground. Next day Binney and Darrell fought their way out to her in an effort to save some of her stores valued at $20,000. Binney was washed overboard, and after Darrell had rescued him the pair had to spend a day lashed to the rigging. The Mist, which was the second prize winner in the deep sea race to Bermuda in 1909, was a total loss.

Later, at the request of his brother, Binney was examined by physicians and sent to the Friends Asylum at Frankford, Pa., but he obtained his release on a writ of habeas corpus.

Shortly after this he was arrested in Philadelphia for speeding his automobile and was looked up for carrying a revolver. A young woman, who was with him, begged the police in a foreign

LONG CLIMB PROVES FATAL.

Aged Woman Dies After Mounting
Steps to Elevated Station.

The exertion of climbing the long flight of stairs to the northbound station of the Sixth avenue elevated at West Broadway and Chambers street today proved fatal to Mrs. Maria Hepp, sixty-six years old, of No. 87 Prince street, Paterson, N. J. Accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Madeline Schroeder, also of Paterson, Mrs. Hepp came to New York to do Christmas shopping.

As she reached the top of the stairs she fainted, and when the Hudson Street Hospital ambulance arrived Dr. Livingston pronounced her dead. The body was removed to the Leonard street police station. Mrs. Hepp is survived by her husband but no children.

DON JAIME SUEB BY COOK.

Woman Says the Prince is Father of Her Baby.

VIENNA, Dec. 8.—To compel him to support her infant which she declared to be his son, Prince Don Jaime of Bourbon, Duke of Madrid, and only son of Don Carlos, pretender to the throne of Spain, to-day was sued by his former cook.
